

Jeppesen – the CIA’s Travel Agent

Jeppesen International Trip Planning, located in San Jose
has a direct role in the CIA torture flights.

Jeppesen’s role includes clearing the airways and runways for the CIA, providing landing and navigation assistance, scheduling flight crews, and booking hotels for them.

The CIA torture flights -- also called “extraordinary rendition” -- began during the Clinton administration and are now used by the Bush-Cheney gang to deliver suspected terrorists to countries where they can be interrogated and tortured. It amounts to the outsourcing of torture.

An entirely innocent man, a German national named Khaled El-Masri, is now suing the CIA. He was kidnapped, beaten, drugged, then transported to a secret prison in Afghanistan. Five months after his abduction he was deposited at night, without explanation, on a hill in Albania. His lawsuit is providing more information about Jeppesen’s role in providing logistics for the torture flights.

Torture is despicable, immoral, illegal, and cannot be justified on any basis. It is always wrong!
